

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*TRILLIUM HEALTH PARTNERS SECURES FINANCIAL CLOSE, LAUNCHING CONSTRUCTION OF CANADA'S LARGEST HOSPITAL IN SUMMER 2025

The Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital and Shah Family Hospital for Women and Children will meet unprecedented health care demand, reimagine the future of care and bolster the local economy

July 11, 2025 (Mississauga, ON) – Yesterday, Trillium Health Partners (THP), together with Infrastructure Ontario (IO) and ED+PCL Healthcare Partners, reached financial close on The Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital and Shah Family Hospital for Women and Children, paving the way for construction to begin in Summer 2025. Following an open and competitive procurement process, ED+PCL Healthcare Partners has been awarded $13.9 billion contract to design, build, finance, and maintain the new hospital, which will meet the needs of one of the country's most diverse and rapidly growing communities. Already one of the busiest hospitals in the country, Trillium Health Partners is projected to face more demand for health care than any other Ontario hospital over the next 20 years.

Designed as a digitally connected hub of care, The Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital and Shah Family Hospital for Women and Children will link patients across primary care, home care, long-term care, and the community. This future model of care uses technology, data, and clinical insight to provide more proactive, personalized, and coordinated care while maximizing value.

"The Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital and the Shah Family Hospital for Women and Children will serve as state-of-the-art hubs for advanced, digitally connected care – seamlessly linked across the health system, from family doctors to home and long-term care – to put people at the centre," said Karli Farrow, President and CEO, Trillium Health Partners. "Through deep collaboration and shared purpose between THP, IO and ED+PCL Healthcare Partners, we are prioritizing the patient and provider experience while maximizing efficiency and cost effectiveness."

This project uses a progressive public-private partnership (P3) approach, with ED+PCL Healthcare Partners working collaboratively with IO, Trillium Health Partners, and the Ministry of Health (MOH) to deliver a modern, efficient hospital that meets the highest standards of patient care while minimizing costs and sharing risk.

This redevelopment is also expected to bolster the local economy and strengthen Mississauga's position as a leader in attracting and retaining business investment. Combined with the expansion at the future home of The Gilgan Family Queensway Health Centre, these projects will attract 2,400 new health care professionals and over 400 new physicians adding an estimated $1 billion or more to Mississauga's local economy over 10 years.

With pre-construction activities, including demolition, utility relocation, and road realignment already well underway, substantial project completion is targeted for 2033 with transition to hospital operations targeted for 2034.

ADDITIONAL QUOTES

"With this groundbreaking, our government is protecting Ontario's health care system and ensuring that more people in Mississauga and across Peel Region can connect to convenient care, where and when they need it. This historic investment is another example of how we are investing in the health care needs of growing communities, to deliver the highest standard of care for generations to come.” - Sylvia Jones, Deputy Premier and Minister of Health

“The Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital and Shah Family Hospital for Women and Children represent the future of health care infrastructure in Ontario. Through our progressive P3 model, we are not only building hospitals — we are making good on our promise to deliver resilient, world-class public infrastructure that support enhanced access and services that make life better for people in their local communities. I’m proud to see this historic project move forward.” - Kinga Surma, Minister of Infrastructure

“Infrastructure Ontario is proud to reach this important milestone in partnership with Trillium Health Partners and EllisDon + PCL Health Care Partners. This project, delivered through IO’s progressive P3 model, has fostered a highly collaborative approach throughout the planning and development phase. We are excited to now move into construction and begin building this landmark hospital that will serve the growing and diverse Mississauga community for generations to come.” - Angela Clayton, President and Chief Executive Officer, Infrastructure Ontario

“The Peter Gilgan Mississauga Hospital and Shah Family Hospital for Women and Children is an important development in healthcare for one of Canada’s fastest growing communities. We believe this collaboration between ED+PCL Healthcare Partners, IO, and THP will create exceptional value for all stakeholders.” - Joey Comeau, Chief Operating Officer and Executive Vice President, Capital at EllisDon

“This milestone is an exciting step in Trillium Health Partners’ journey, reflecting the shared vision and collaboration among ED+PCL Healthcare Partners, IO, THP and our dedicated design and trade partners. Together, we are proud to build a better future in support of Trillium Health Partners’ mission of creating a new standard for patient care in Mississauga.” - Geoff Howe, Senior Vice President and District Manager at PCL Constructors Canada Inc.
